Stop Bill 69!

We can't believe that the city council is considering the sell of billboard space for money. You guys keep it up & you'll kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. People travel to Hawaii for its unique sense of place in the world. We've already had multiple family & friends tell us that they're not interested in flying to Honolulu any more because it has lost what had once made it special. I sense that it's almost become a snob thing to go directly to an outer island. The more Honolulu looks like Southern California, the less folks will be willing to spend the money to fly here.

Stop Bill 69!

Sincerely

Richard & Joann Caplett
